

ANZSEE Conference 2013

Canberra, Australia | 11-14 November, 2013

Opportunities for the Critical Decade Enhancing well-being within planetary boundaries

Conference Information

This biannual conference is organised by the Australia and New Zealand Society for Ecological Economics (ANZSEE). ANZSEE helps create the knowledge and understanding required to build a sustainable and satisfying society.

The conference attracts participants from academia, public policy, government and consultants. This year there is a strong internationally recognized scientific committee directing the conference and at least 3 international keynote speakers. It will be hosted by the Australian National University's Crawford School for Public Policy, Canberra.

As a transdisciplinary field of study, the conference will explore the multiple relationships between complex and interdependent social, economic and ecological systems and is well placed to explore and address opportunities for the critical decade. Specifically pluralistic and integrative approaches will be used to interrogate these systems and be a foundation for collaboration and learning (See <http://anzsee.org/> for more information).

Sponsorship Opportunities

Sponsors will be recognized for the support and interest in the conference. In addition to logos, complimentary registrations (including the Conference Dinner with keynote speakers), sponsors can benefit by supporting specific events, keynote speakers, and/or specific sessions; and naming rights will be provided accordingly. We are happy to discuss specific ideas and needs for sponsors as appropriate. This document contains an indicative list of benefits associated with sponsorship of the conference.

For further information and discussion, please contact:

Dr Leonie Pearson, President of ANZSEE and Chair of the Conference committee

P: 0409 697 440      E: leonie.pearson@canberra.edu.au

OR

Samantha Hart, Conference Logistics

P: 02 6281 6624      E: Samantha@conlog.com.au

Sponsorship Levels and Inclusions

The ANZSEE 2013 Conference committee would like to acknowledge the support and assistance of the ANU Crawford School as our venue sponsor for 2013.

	PLATINUM ($10,000 inc GST)	GOLD ($5,000 inc GST)	SILVER ($2,000 inc GST)	BRONZE (in kind)
Logo on conference website, and in printed materials	YES (large)	YES (medium)	YES (small)	YES (small)
Logo on rotating slideshow during all conference breaks	YES	YES	YES	YES
Complimentary registrations (including Conference Dinner with keynote speakers)	4	2	1	-
Additional registrations at student rate	Unlimited	Unlimited	4	2
Opportunity to nominate sessions, speakers or topics for conference	YES	YES	YES	-

The ANZSEE 2013 Conference will be held at the Crawford School for Public Policy at the Australian National University (ANU), Canberra, from 11-14 November 2013.

The conference adopts an interactive and engaging program, with themes directing each day's activities.

- Monday 11 November 2013: Will feature specific master classes.
- Tuesday 12 November 2013: Water, food and energy security in a warmer, more crowded world
- Wednesday 13 November 2013: Integrated methods for understanding and promoting regional resilience and transformation
- Thursday 14 November 2013: Governance or 21st Century challenges; how can we enhance well-being within planetary boundaries?

The conference will feature keynote addresses by internationally recognized speakers including:

- Chris Ansell is Professor & Director of Travers Program at The Charles and Louse Travers Department of Political Science, University of California Berkeley.
- Bob Costanza is co-founder and past-president of the International Society for Ecological Economics and Chair of Public Policy at Crawford School of Public Policy, ANU.
- Juliet Christian-Smith is a Senior Research Associate with the Pacific Institute's Water Program.

ANZSEE

The Australia and New Zealand Society for Ecological Economics